

2002 Bali Bombings

BY ALEXA MUNGUÍA

OVERVIEW

This piece of work is about our presentation on an IB Topic of interest. I chose to talk about security associated with terrorism. More specifically, I discussed the 2002 Bali Bombings and how the spread of terrorism has affected countries that are uninvolved in an extremist war. The connections I made within this investigation included concepts such as peace and conflict, human rights and power. Power is seen as the concept laid upon governments under attack by terrorist organizations to oblige. This present power provides terrorists the ability to change a country's agenda and jeopardize people's security. Human rights' violations can also be seen with the risk civilians are facing during these attacks. Terrorists target people's liberty and physical integrity. Peace and conflict can be analyzed when we argue that terrorism violates the rule of law focused on civilian protection and tolerance amongst nations. It was genuinely interesting to approach this tragic event with these perspectives because you grasp the conflict a lot more.

IB LEARNER PROFILE

I chose knowledgeable as the skill I mostly developed throughout this presentation. I feel like I completely engaged with foreign issues that don't affect me at all because of my geographic location. Despite that, I still engaged myself and felt it was important to discuss matters such as these. The approach I presented in this investigation made me become more knowledgeable about the situations happening at a global significance. It was an enriching experience.

CHALLENGES

Some of the challenges I faced throughout the process were related to my communication skills. When I practiced my presentation, I had to work really hard to try and convey the purpose of my investigation. I feel like it was a really complex message to transmit because I didn't properly comprehend it for a while. What I also found particular to follow was human behavior during these situations. Whether it was from the victims, the terrorists or even nation leaders, it was laborious to learn from them and their experiences with terror.

IN THE FUTURE

This piece of evidence will have considerable significance for my future self. I not only learned how to approach global issues like these, but I also learned how to discuss about them. It's tricky to approach a conflict such as this because it includes too many years of conflict that a person doesn't even grasp. It also includes too many implications that must be taken into consideration. That is why I enjoyed viewing the situation through different perspectives. I feel like that is crucially essential during these topics. I will apply for any further situation that comes my way. We must analyze, assess the situation and then act upon it. I feel like this lesson will be extremely valuable, especially my future career.
